PROFESSIONAL & ACADEMIC POSITIONS

PEGASUS PROFESSOR, (highest academic award at UCF), Public Administration and Policy, School of Public Administration, University of Central Florida (UCF), Orlando, FL, 2019 – Present

INTERIM ASSOCIATE DEAN FOR RESEARCH AND INNOVATION, College of Community Innovation and Education, University of Central Florida (UCF), January 2023 – Present

As the Associate Dean for Research and Innovation, my responsibilities include providing leadership for use-inspired interdisciplinary research and scholarship; promoting cross-sector partnerships and community engagement for translational and interdisciplinary scholarship; and developing research opportunities and initiatives for faculty, building collaborative interdisciplinary teams, training and mentoring researchers, providing resources to advance the quality and impact of faculty scholarship. I facilitate the creation of a safe, diverse, and inclusive space for researchers to brainstorm creative ideas in advancing scholarship and impacting the community. I oversee the college research administration service team (RAST), budgets and research programs, as well as research centers within the college. I collaborate and coordinate with university research enterprise to encourage cross-college collaborations for interdisciplinary research.

INTERIM CHAIR, Department of Criminal Justice, College of Community Innovation and Education, University of Central Florida (UCF), December 2021 – August 2022

Worked collaboratively with faculty, program directors, staff, college/university leadership, and the community to meet the needs of the students, scholarly community, and professional practitioners in Criminal Justice; provided an exemplary collaborative leadership of the department through creating a collegial environment serving students, faculty, staff, alumni, and the community; supervised faculty and staff; facilitated external funding opportunities for interdisciplinary, innovative, and policy relevant research. Also, during this short period of time an inaugural advisory council was formed for the department; mission, vision, and value statements revised and approved; an inclusive faculty member was hired; and three new faculty positions were approved, and the search processes were facilitated.

JOINT APPOINTMENT, School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs, University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL, April 2021 – Present

FULBRIGHT DISTINGUISHED CHAIR, Applied Public Policy, Democratic Resilience jointly hosted by Flinders University and Carnegie Mellon University- Australia, Academic Year 2021-2022

The project aimed to study urban resilience to disasters by applying network governance framework. As the scale and intensity of disasters continue to increase, building and enhancing resilience to disasters has become a critical policy and governance issue. Of particular importance to this topic is urban infrastructure resilience because infrastructure systems support the continuity of operations of governments and businesses, and are essential to the economy, society, and safety. The project applied a network governance perspective to examine interdependent urban infrastructure systems' resilience. This is critical for our understanding of the role of governing interdependent infrastructure systems to enhance urban resilience. The project also addressed the need to leverage collaborative leadership and organizational capacity to develop robust and connected networks and stakeholder engagement to enhance resilience to disasters in complex system of intergovernmental settings. The project identified key stakeholders, the structure, and the functioning of the system in implementing resilience policies at the federal, state, and local levels. As part of the research project, I met with professional practitioners at every level of government and civil society organizations in addition to expert scholars. Most impactful experience for him was observing the creation of National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA). I was also able to participate workshops on resilience, national recovery forum, and visited bushfire and flood impacted communities in New South Wales, Victoria, and South Australia.

JOINT APPOINTMENT, Center for Resilient, Intelligent and Sustainable Energy Systems (RISES), University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL, May 2019 – Present

FELLOW, Center for Global Economic and Environmental Opportunity (GEEO), University of Central Florida, 2019 – Present

DISTINGUISHED VISITING PROFESSOR, School of Public Policy and Administration, Xi'an Jiaotong University, China, fall 2020 (Virtual instruction and presentations)

PROFESSOR & DIRECTOR, School of Public Administration, University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL, August 2015 – August 2020

Led a NASPAA member comprehensive school; teaches courses in Social Inquiry and Public Policy, Network Governance, Emergency and Crisis Management, and Leadership in Public Service as part of Masters of Public Administration (MPA), Master of Public Policy (MPP), Masters in Nonprofit Management (MNM); PhD in Public Affairs, or Master of Emergency and Crisis Management (MECM); advises students; conducts basic and applied research; serves in thesis and dissertation committees; serves on school, college, and university committees, and community and professional associations.

Leadership philosophy. I am a dedicated steward of the teaching, scholarship, research, and service missions of the University. I am a servant leader who strongly upholds principles of integrity and decency, and with endless energy and continuous sense of intellectual curiosity. As a people-centered leader, I listen attentively, consult widely, and foster collaboration for the purpose of having positive impact on the lives of students, faculty, staff, alumni, and the community. I am a resilient and positive leader, who invests genuinely in the success of others, values and practices collegiality, diversity, equity, and inclusivity. I am a collaborative leader who trusts members of my team as individuals and empowers them to work collectively to pursue ambitious, meaningful, and strategic institutional goals.

Key Accomplishments at the UCF School of Public Administration. Facilitated the strategic planning for the school during the first year as the School director (with implementation plan and assessments strategies); Investigated the School history and identified benchmarks for its development (The School's 40th anniversary celebration took place on November 14, 2016 and included brief remarks from alumni, students and faculty on the School's past, present and future. Orange County Mayor Teresa Jacobs and Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer both proclaimed Nov. 14, 2016 School of Public Administration Day in honor of the anniversary); developed and executed several informal meetings such as teaching and research circles and inaugural lecture series in shaping community of scholars culture at the School; brought Public Administration Review (premier journal in the field), Health and Human Services Administration, and PA Theory and Praxis to the School; successfully hired twenty one faculty with diverse backgrounds from top programs in the U.S. (including senior faculty with tenure and interdisciplinary research faculty) during my tenure as the school director. Only a few faculty positions were replacements, and most were new positions created based on our growth in enrollment as well as strategic interdisciplinary partnerships within the university.

Facilitated the accreditation process for Master of Science in Urban and Regional Planning (MSURP) program through PAB; successfully facilitated accreditation for Master of Nonprofit Management (MNM) program through NASPAA (the first stand-alone nonprofit management degree program accredited by NASPAA in the world); and initiated the self-study process for MPA program re-accreditation through NASPAA; facilitated developing seven new programs during the first three years as the director. BA/BS Nonprofit Management (fall 2017); Graduate Certificate in Public Budgeting and Finance (fall 2017); Graduate Certificate in Public Policy

Analysis (spring 2018); Master of Emergency & Crisis Management (fall 2018); BA/BS Emergency Management (fall 2018); Facilitate development of Ph.D. in Public Administration (target start date fall 2020); Master of Public Policy (MPP) (start date fall 2020); Social Justice in Public Service (fall 2020); and revised BA/BS Public Administration curriculum to improve the quality of the program and make it more attractive for incoming students.

Six out of twenty-five top 100 UCF graduate programs ranked by USWR and two highest ranked programs, #2 Emergency Management and Homeland Security and #5 Nonprofit Management, are housed in the School of Public Administration.

Initiated agreements with prestigious universities in Argentina, Azerbaijan, Brazil, China, Lithuania, Korea, and Turkey; built structured relationships for faculty and student exchanges and study abroad programs with these universities; hosted several scholars including Fulbright scholars.

Worked collaboratively with faculty, program directors, staff, advisory boards, university leadership, and the community to meet the needs of the scholarly community, policy makers, and professional practitioners nationally and internationally; provided an exemplary collaborative leadership of the School through creating a collegial environment serving students, faculty, staff, alumni, and the community; supervised faculty and staff; advanced external funding for interdisciplinary, innovative, and policy relevant research and public service; insured academic excellence through the development of quality curriculums in all programs and ongoing evaluation of academic programs and priorities; increased enrollment for both graduate and undergraduate programs; and strengthened communities and positively impacted lives through ongoing community and global partnerships.

CURRICULUM & PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

Graduate Certificate in Network Analysis and Applications (committee member)
Interdisciplinary initiative by School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs; the School of Public Administration; and the Department of Computer Science, AY 2020-2021

Ph.D. Public Administration and Policy (SPA Director)

BA/BS Nonprofit Management (SPA Director)

Master of Emergency and Crisis management (MECM) (SPA Director)

BA/BS Emergency Management (SPA Director)

MPA/MSJ Dual Degree (SPA Director)

Public Affairs Ph.D. Curriculum Revision (committee member)

Developed competencies for the doctoral students, core values, ethical principles, core courses and competency matrix, and developed the theoretical foundation of public affairs course.

Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Public Affairs Ph.D. degree programs

Designed and facilitated the dual degree program. Students in the dual degree program will engage research with the department faculty over several years. Faculty can mentor/develop students more fully with this long-term interaction. The total student credit hours (SCHs) for the dual degree would be eighty-one (81) hours. There would be six (6) hours waived by the MPA Program and twelve (12) student credit hours counted in both programs (cross-crediting) reducing the overall total from 99 SCHs to 81 SCHs. Students successfully completing the MPA /PhD dual degree program will receive two diplomas, one for the MPA degree and one for the PhD degree.

Track in Public Administration, Doctoral Program in Public Affairs

Designed and coordinated the Public Administration in the Doctoral Program in Public Administration. The Public Administration Track integrates the historical evolution of the public administration field, the current challenges in theory and practice in our increasingly inter-connected society, and the future directions needed as a discipline and society to achieve responsive solutions to complex public problems. The track will assist our students in developing competencies in knowledge / theory and research skills in the field of public administration.

Graduate Emergency Management and Homeland Security Certificate

Designed an Interdisciplinary Graduate Certificate Program in Emergency Management and Homeland Security and developed curricula. The certificate provides a professional credential for emergency managers preparing to apply for the Certified Emergency Manager (CEM) program; emergency responders and public health personnel needing to know how their professions fit into the national, state, and local emergency management systems; administrators in educational, business, and other settings where a knowledge of emergency management policies and programs may be needed; and students preparing for academic careers teaching emergency management and homeland security or related courses. The certificate program courses integrates/uses Emergency Management Institute EMI (of FEMA/DHS) resources available online.

Minor in Emergency Management and Homeland Security

Revised the curriculum for the Emergency Management minor at the Department of Public Administration in UCF. Developed Homeland Security and Emergency Management course for the minor. Also assisted the adjunct faculty in their syllabi and textbook identification for the minor program. The proposed changes are to reflect the role of emergency management in homeland security. The changes are based on the new structure of emergency management at both the federal and state levels, where it is included as part of homeland security. In addition, the content changes being proposed for the minor are based on the most recent literature on emergency management. The name has been changed from Emergency Management to Emergency Management and Homeland Security.
