Su-I Hou DrPH, CPH, CDP, MCHES, RN, CDP, FACHE, FGSA

Brief Bio (see also my serendipitous-leaders-journey)

Su-I Hou is a Professor at the University of Central Florida's School of Global Health Management and Informatics (SGHMI). She strategically led the expansion of her academic unit from a department to a school and served as SGHMI's founding school director during the pandemic. Since 2015, she has been the health-track coordinator for UCF's interdisciplinary Doctoral Program in Public Affairs (PAF-PhD). Hou is dedicated to global education and exchange, founding and directing the Taiwan Study Abroad Program on Asian Culture, Healthcare, & Aging Society at UGA (2011-2015) and subsequently at UCF (2017-present). She established the Su-I Hou Global Health Management & Informatics Endowed Scholarship at UCF-SGHMI to support students pursuing global learning experiences. Hou received the highest achievement as a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE), the gold standard credential in healthcare leadership. Hou is a Fellow of the Gerontological Society of America (FGSA), representing the Society's highest membership level, acknowledging her ongoing scholarship, service excellence, and dedication to gerontology.

Before joining UCF in 2015, Hou was instrumental in founding the College of Public Health at the University of Georgia (UGA) and served as the founding director of its interdisciplinary Doctoral Program in Public Health (DrPH), the first such program in Georgia, leading the proposal development and establishment. She also served as an Associate Editor for Health Promotion Practice (2009-2015), the official journal of the Society for Public Health Education, focused on practical health promotion and education. Hou is recognized as a service-learning scholar by the Community-Campus Partnership for Health (CCPH) and received UGA's inaugural service-learning research excellence award.

Hou's research expertise includes mixed-methods research (MMR), program evaluation, community-based participatory research (CBPR), and scholarship of teaching and learning (SoTL), focusing on Aging-in-Community (AIC) models, healthy aging, patient-centered care, and community strategies for cancer and HIV/AIDS prevention. She collaborates with community partners to develop study instruments, assess psycho-social factors, and implement theory-based health programs.

Hou has taught diverse competency-based courses: Mixed Methods Research, Policy & Program Evaluation; Program Dev & Implnt; Epidemiology; Healthcare for the Elderly; Asian Culture & Health; Public Health & Aging, Human Ecology of Health & Illness; Community Health; Cancer Communication; Doctoral Seminars; HIV/AIDS, Med Terminology, U.S. Healthcare System. Before joining academia, she held leadership roles in healthcare and community settings, serving as the Founding Director of a Community Health Department at a major teaching hospital in Taiwan.

Active in Chinese American communities, Hou served as the 2013-14 President of the Chinese American Academic and Professional Association in South-eastern United States (CAPASUS) and continues its executive board. Hou has published 140+ journal articles, presented 260+ conference papers, and delivered 160+ invited presentations globally. Selected as a Fulbright Specialist (2019-2024), Hou received an FS matching award to conduct a global health training project at Ben-Gurion University of the Negev in Israel (2022) and has been invited to lead multiple mixed-methods research (MMR) workshops abroad. Recently named the 2024-2026 Fulbright-Saastamoinen Foundation Distinguished Chair in Health Sciences, Hou will collaborate with researchers at the University of Eastern Finland, particularly its renowned FINGERS team, on brain health and dementia prevention using digital technology. Invited to join as a global faculty member at Stanford Center for Asian Health Research and Education (CARE), Hou contributes to CARE's mission to enhance Asian health outcomes through her expertise.

 - 2020 Digital Learning Course Re-design Initiative Project (DL-CRI) 03/10/2020 – 04/30/2021
“Digital Learning Course Re-design with Personalize Adaptive Learning Module for HSC 3593 Webcourse”
HSC 3593 course is currently a high-quality (HQ) Webcourse with positive student feedback. However, due to the popularity and high demand of this course, the enrollment has been doubled this spring 2020. The Personalize Adaptive Learning (PAL) could be a potential promising way to provide customize and personalize students’ learning path to allow them more directly control and increase engagement in their learning. This DL-CRI intends to add an adaptive module in Realizeit to incorporate formative assessment and active learning in online environments so students can have more direct control and engage deeper in their learning path and process.

Sample student comments about my courses (UCF: PAF 7868 Stat III - Mixed Methods Research):

I appreciate the practical nature of the assignments we were given from beginning to end. Everything in the course built upon each other nicely. It was extremely helpful to be given application assignments throughout.	I really appreciate how we would go over a concept, and then apply it our own research. That helped the class flow, and really enabled us to see a connection between the text and the process.
I learned to really taking an in depth look at mixed methods, from the title of the project to selecting statistical analysis. Everything is relevant and I love the practice in evaluating MMR in articles.	I really enjoyed the relaxed atmosphere which made it a very comfortable learning space. I loved the engagement & discussions during class. I truly believe you care about the material & the students =)
KEEP THIS CLASS! Mixed methods is highly valuable, and the future wave of research. As the PAF program is interdisciplinary, and use multiple perspectives to solve social problems, it only makes sense to have a combined statistics course to aid in doing so.	The course was very well-instructed. The Professor did a great job of incorporating intentional coursework and activities. I have learned a lot in this course, from the readings, to the after-session assignments, to the final MMR paper.
This course has significantly increased my confidence in MMR. We were able to read interdisciplinary articles, find model article with own MMR design, critique each other's work; & see how my peer fellows grow & how we applied what learned and explain to others.	Being able to understand the relevance and structure of a mixed methods study is very valuable. Understand the diff types of MMR & when/why/how to use them is very useful. I believe the skill will greatly assist in my academic & professional growth.
I really like how the concepts are modeled first, then applied during class, and reinforced during after session activities. It is a class "I do, we do, you do" model, and it really works!	The class is well-taught. The assignments & activities were very intentional & played a great role in our understanding of the material.
I love the interactive in-class activities & the after class assignments as they truly reinforces our learning. It allows for an opportunity to apply what we learned in each session and furthered our understanding of MMR in each capacity.	This class is extremely helpful in not only learning mixed methodology, but also in reinforcing quantitative & qualitative methods. I'm really happy I took this class, & am looking fwd to design my own MMR in the future.
I liked that we spent the first few weeks discussing the similarities & diff in the types of MMR designs. It was very beneficial to focus on and thoroughly understand the types of designs before beginning our proposal. After taking this course, these MMR designs are now ingrained in my brain. I believe I'll remember everything I learned.	I enjoyed the various forms of learning employed in this class. Specifically, we analyzed mixed-methods articles, had class lecture and discussion about the topics, and then took all of that information and applied it to a final paper in which we analyzed data and wrote a final paper.
What I really like was the continuous feedback throughout the assignments and progress reports.	I really like the fact that we are using real data and are working toward creating a publishable product.
Best practices regarding course structure should be shared with peer professors. The incremental design of Dr. Hou's course enables the student appreciate the content being taught.	I would say this is one of the best courses in this program! Course organization & course content; Useful assignments; and of course our instructor, Dr. Hou!
It was extremely helpful that we applied what we learned in class through homework & practice immediately after lecture. It helps with integration. Dr. Su-I had us do these a little bit at a time. I learn so much better like that (little at a time). This was one of the best classes I had.	The course was very well organized & implemented. Everything was very intentional & helped with our learning of the material. I learn best when I listen to lecture & then apply the material. It was hands-on & active throughout.

Sample student evaluation comments about me (UCF: PAF 7868 Stat III - Mixed Methods Research):

Dr. Hou is extremely approachable & willing to assist when asked, offers to assist when not asked. I truly appreciate the opportunity to check in each week on our final projects to ensure we are on track.	Excellent professor who helps you along the way. Dr. Su-I's guidance was very helpful & shaped our project. I appreciate the time you put into our class and I am grateful for your support!
Dr. Su-I's lectures were very instructive & helpful. The class was challenging at times but she had eased all the obstacles. Feedback from you was helpful to really get my own feel for explaining mixed methods.	She is a REALLY good professor, very engaging & encourages student participation. I appreciate her feedback & flexible style. It allows me to learn without intense pressure.
Taking your classes are always a great experience. I've really enjoyed your class, including the assignments, discussions, & atmosphere! You keep the class fun & provide very clear instructions.	Dr. Hou was incredibly supportive & encouraging and gave autonomy to create "our own study." I like her teaching style: down to earth, thoughtful, funny. =) Thank you for an amazing experience this semester!
Thank you, Dr. Hou. The class was informative & fun at the same time (these two adjectives rarely coexist). I'm really honored to be your student.	I have finally conceptualized my passionate research direction. I want to sincerely thank Dr. Su-I for her patient and guidance to make it happen.
I like the relaxed atmosphere in the class. Dr. Hou is a pro in establishing such an informal environment. Also, the slides that Dr. Hou presents in class are extremely helpful!

Sample student comments about my courses (UCF: PAF 7325 – Policy & Program Evaluation):

I enjoyed the course structure, the partial submission of each component of the major assignment really assisted with refining the final product as we were able to get feedback from peers & expert feedback from Dr. Hou.	I really appreciated the in-class assignments. I found them helpful not only for this class but overall. The class was very well taught and the assignments correlated perfectly with the objectives of the course.
The ability to actually create evaluation proposals for programs that may actually be implemented is an amazing opportunity which I appreciated.	I enjoyed the pacing of the class & how each wk we learned something that could be immediately put to use in our final paper.
The class lectures were informative & the discussions were lively and useful. It is very helpful to apply what we learned in class to the real field.	The class gave me an insight on how the eval should be conducted, what are the methods, and measures that can be applied.
The class is so practical we can apply what we learn in class & contribute to the community organization.	Everything was great! The course is very useful & well-designed for PhD level students!
I'm 100% love this class & its organization! I appreciate the active learning style.	Instructor is great at giving feedback & direction throughout the course.
A well-designed high quality course, the content is sequential & transparent. The threats to validity was an extremely helpful exercise as it allowed the class to collectively pick apart the nuances of threats.	The class discussions have been very valuable, the way evaluation is linked with the other concepts we have learned; the overall importance of eval & how it connects back to research designs & stat. analysis.
The course has challenged me to assess evaluation outcomes from different stakeholder perspectives.	The step by step process of program eval & the opportunity to apply it
The feedback & class discussion on validity threats & research designs are extremely valuable. It gave a fresh set of eyes & minds and provided new insights. The repetitive & concentrated discussion truly helped me internalize the details and concepts.	The class was extremely hands-on & the professor was always available for additional assistance. This class was phenomenal & by far my best experience as a doctoral student.
The hands-on approach was useful & beneficial for me. Learning content & applying it to the project allowed me to immediately use what learned in real-world situations.	I really enjoyed the roundtable discussion. It is very conducive to the learning environment. The in-class examples were extremely helpful.
The class content is well-organized, and each lecture is very clear and easy to understand and follow. The assigned readings are extremely useful for this class and QEs in terms of research design... Overall I really enjoy this class and have learned so many useful things here, and really look forward to ... do the real program evaluation in my future career.	I thoroughly enjoyed the group activity & case studies. Class discussions were very informative & involved a lot of critical thinking. I like breaking into small groups to discuss the topic more, this allows time to gather thoughts & to hear diff perspectives. It was a lot of fun gaining insights from my peers.
Following the systems & standards already in place can ensure you are not only effective, but also thorough. Brings my fears and anxieties down for the responsibility of being a program evaluator.	Definitely keep the mini assignments, those were VERY USEFUL & VERY INFORMATIVE! Especially for studying for the QE! I really learned a lot from the validity & design mini assignments.
I feel that I know what questions to ask & what direction to take to construct a strong & thorough proposal!	I appreciate the opportunity to connect directly with stakeholders and to have them present during the presentations. This was such a large undertaking.
The sequence of course content, alignment of activities with the course objectives, and the overall organization of the course will help me remember the essentials of eval research years from now because I was about to learn how evaluation nuances attribute to the grand objective.

Sample student evaluation comments about me (UCF: PAF 7325 – Policy & Program Evaluation):

Very organized and clear professor! Teaching core concepts through informative lecture with examples and exercises were very impressive. Truly appreciated!	Dr. Hou is an amazing professor. She teaches the content & provides hands-on application through class assignments & projects.
Dr. Hou was totally focused on helping us rather than hindering us. She is refreshing & wanted her students to succeed. Dr. Hou has been incredibly informative.	Dr. Hou creates a learning environment that is encouraging and conducive to classroom discussion surrounding the topic.
Dr. Hou demonstrated interest in helping me succeed boosted my confidence & enabled me to relax & learn!	Repeated emphasis on what's important & verification that we understand – awesome!
Dr. Hou keeps everyone on a really reasonable timeline that ensures the completion of our papers in a timely manner while reaching our learning objectives too.	Dr. Hou made this class fund & interesting! I really enjoyed the class! Dr. Su-I is pragmatic & flexible. This facilitated a meaningful course.

Sample student reflections about UCF's Taiwan Study Abroad Program (HSA 4955 / HSA 6958 / PAF 7958):

This was a life-changing experience with culture immersions and areas of self-growth throughout the entire program... Travel is the only thing you buy that makes you richer... Fiscal responsibility is important, but let's continue to prioritize. When given the choice, always take the trip! As the much-older student and anxious before the trip about being excluded, I bonded with each of my classmates and were impressed by their openness to a new culture at such young ages... I'll make sure to keep in touch with these new friends. Perhaps some of them will even become colleagues at Orlando Health!

"My first (& favorite) study abroad" - This was an amazing experience and I am very glad that I chose this program... I was exposed to a whole new culture of foods, people, and places and was able to learn a lot about the similarities and differences in healthcare and various other aspects in Taiwan and the US. The Taiwanese students who helped us around the night market and around Taipei was so incredibly kind and sweet. I loved being on this trip! I was so glad that I got to go and I was also so happy to make so many new friends through this experience, both American and Taiwanese. Taiwan, it's my favorite!

"My Unforgettable Experience Across the World"- The pre-trip learning gave me a better understanding on seniors housing options, the aging population, and health issues. This helped me a lot in Taiwan with pre-knowledge on places we visited or things we discussed. The flights to & from TW were definitely the longest days of my life but so worth it... This was a trip that I am very grateful I had the opportunity to experience and would recommend it to anyone!

I never imagined how much of an impact the trip would have on my career goals. I signed up to broaden my horizons, and learn more about aging for ... my future career. But I've never really given serious thought to working with the elderly when it comes to speech and language disorders... now so many doors are opening for me. Working with the elderly is a very real possibility, & something I can see myself enjoying doing in the future.

I'm already missing the patient, courteous and respectful nature of the Taiwanese culture ("Taiwan withdrawals")... I learned a ton about myself, and my perspectives on many aspects have changed because of this experience. I have learned to view myself as small part of a collective society, as the Asian culture teaches its people to view themselves. I learned that the elderly are not necessarily a drain on society as they are viewed here in America. The elderly are wise individuals who are able to contribute to society if we let them... to be a part of society in ways that America has not provided for them... for them to learn and grow as individuals even in their old age. I also learned that there may be other ways to deliver health care to all with a system that may be more efficient than America's health care system... I will remember this experience for my entire life & truly thank Dr. Hou for making a dream of mine come true this summer.

Time of my life - This experience was truly unforgettable! Overall I have learned so much about the Asian culture. Their generosity, honesty, openness and sense of respect was something that I felt I could apply in my personal and professional life. My decision of pushing my graduation back one semester for this program was one I was iffy about before going. After coming back I know that it was definitely the right thing to do.

I was shocked to see how much the Taiwanese older adults utilized their leisure time. Everything they did either enriched themselves or aided their society. For example, the bear café allowed older adults to babysit for youth around the community while their parents were out. I will never forget how relaxing it was to be among a group of people that are not rushing to get anywhere but truly know how to sit back and appreciate every aspect of life ...

I learned to love people again and money is not everything. I learned to help more and be involved in everything possible to better myself and my country. One day I hope to build a school for children, that focuses on loving one another and caring for the earth and God. Taiwan is a little replica of what I imagined.

In complete honesty, I took away more from that trip than I have any other, and learned more than I did in several of my classes. While I went on this trip expecting an educational experience, I came away with not only a plethora of knowledge, but memories of some of the most fun experiences I've ever had.

This was one of the most amazing experiences and I am truly grateful... The most surprising thing... were the people and how unbelievably kind & calm everyone was to us as well as to each other. We were all able to make friends with our language partners... This trip has really deepened my want to help the U.S. better our healthcare system...

I had a lifetime and I am able to incorporate this into my goals of becoming a future healthcare administrator. One thing I did not expect was the genuine kindness and affection I received from the multiple host while there. I find myself wishing them well everyday in my prayers and communicating through social media with them quit often.

It was very inspiring with this study abroad, from the atmosphere, the food, the friendly people, and the great healthcare services provided. This study abroad helped me to find my passion for older adult education and aging services. It helped me to find myself, my careers' goals, and my long-term plans. It opened my eyes...

This experience was way better than I could ever anticipated and I can't wait to apply everything I've learned and all the professional and personal growth that I have experienced into my daily life and future career. I hope you continue this opportunity for other students for as long as possible.

"Traveling to Taiwan – A remarkable experience in culture that puts mindfulness, compassion, and patients before payments!" The one I will always remember is the people... at every institution we visited I could sense the sincerity that they really cared for their residents. Their heart was in it. It was completely real. I was especially in awe of their management of the elderly communities and long-term care facilities. It didn't matter what city we visited, they integrated their seniors with their entire community especially with children.

This trip to Taiwan has been absolutely indescribable and amazing. I've had the time of my life. I know it's repetitive but thank you a million times!!

Dr. Hou did not make it feel like a class room but like a whole new world. Can't wait to take this class again and tell others!!

Sample student comments about my courses (UCF: HSC 3593 HIV/AIDS – High Quality Online Course):

It was very well organized and insightful class. Attacking different ways of learning from all aspects ... exams, discussions, doing our own project and interviewing someone.	I really enjoyed the personal stories, it showed me how diff people dealt with, & overcame their diagnosis of HIV. It opened my eyes to the severity of HIV around the world.
Modules were very informative & easy to follow! It's not easy to learn & maintain info from online course, but it was very easy with this class as I was able to learn! I wouldn't change a thing because it was perfect.	The material was interesting approach to learning the subject, with stories, videos, & webpages. Great feedback on areas of improvement for assignments. Midterm evaluation was great to give feedback.
Favorite online course. I really like the course structure...very useful, interesting, informative, & professor was great!! Those personal stories gave so much more insight than any book could give when understanding what it's like to have HIV/AIDS.	This is a great learning experience & teaches you so much on HIV, symptoms, stigma, life challenges, hopes, fears, & therapies for dealing with HIV. ... helped me better understand the scope of the topics we discussed.
The class was interesting & the related articles featured throughout the course really inspired me to work towards reducing the HIV/AIDS stigma.	Videos gave us better insight by hearing directly from doctors & patients, some of those I still remember vividly as I'm a visual learner.
I learned more when I read the links provided because it wasn't just a textbook and I appreciated the different writing styles & variety of info from different sources.	Used up to date resourceful websites / the good examples you provided for all of the topics / of the amount of content that was provided /
I appreciated how you incorporated real-life stories of individuals who had HIV into your lessons, as it helped me relate more to what they must be going through.	The content gave real life examples for the things that people with HIV/AIDS struggle with. It makes it more realistic & relevant than simply stating statistics.
Multiple sources were used, and testimonials were implemented. It really humanized a disease many stigmatize & gave me a better understanding on the social, psychological, physical, emotional, & medical impact these individuals had.	LOVED this class, answers questions promptly, follows syllabus, great organization. It really taught me about the disease & the crisis people are facing. The class is exactly how every class should be. Highly recommend.
I enjoyed the required videos and readings because it wasn't the traditional text book/test means of retaining information. It allowed me to absorb and retain more information in a nontraditional way.	By far the best course I have ever taken! It was extremely informative and interactive in the form of an online class. The instructor was always enthusiastic towards course objectives.
Everything was well organized, and the material was presented in a way that was easy to learn. I will definitely take what I have learned & apply it not only to other classes, but in my life as well. GREAT COURSE. THIS SHOULD BE A REQUIRED COURSE FOR ALL STUDENT !! This class was so informative, interesting, and truly an eye opener!	This was one of the most insightful classes I've taken. It not only touches me intellectually, but humanistically also. I've come out of this experience a better person. Enjoyed all the reminders, especially the announcements every Monday regarding what is due for the week.
I really loved this class. It was so informative, and I learned things about HIV that I had never known before. I really like how it took the global perspective of HIV, so we were able to learn about how it is combated in other countries. I feel that for those who took this class that were "uncomfortable" being around people with HIV would now have a lot more compassion, and understanding for those who have HIV. Dr. Hou was always available to help, and would always answer in a speedy fashion.	HIV Prevention Project, It helped me see different viewpoints on individuals lives. The information provided was very detailed and helpful. It definitely gave me a better understanding on the topic.
I learned a lot of real life content that is useful. Been able to think more critically about those infected with HIV/AIDS. Thank you for opening up my mind to be more aware.	I like how this class made me more interested in the topic and kept me motivated to do the work with the material that was provided by the professor. The discussion posts were all very interesting making it pain free to write about. It stirs diff opinions & ideas, which in turn creates more thinking and understanding about HIV.
I'll remember this entire course! It's so different than any other I've taken. I loved that it wasn't just assigned readings. I got to do different things & learn from different approaches and I believe that is the best way to learn!	I enjoyed this class tremendously. I learned way more than I expected. You were very clear in explaining what needed to be done in modules and gave great feedback.

Sample student evaluation comments about me (UCF: HSC 3593 HIV/AIDS – High Quality Online Course):

Professor is very attentive & communicates well with her students. Weekly emails get me informed & updated. A lot of info has stuck with me. The course was intriguing and organized very well. Most things were very memorable because it was taught so well.	This professor was amazing, & everything was clearly mapped from the beginning. Perfect execution with instructions & it would seem as if she was instantaneous with her response to questions.
I enjoyed that passion that the professor had for the course. Dr. Hou is excellent & very considerate, she cares about her subject & her students.	Wonderful professor who truly cares for her students. I love how interactive she was with the class even as an online course. She provided wonderful feedback.
The instructor was awesome! I liked how relatable the info was & how it directly connected to the real world.	Dr. Su-I Hou was amazing! She was a great teacher & responded very fast to emails when we need help.
This is by far one of the best, most interesting classes I have taken at UCF! Dr. Hou, you are an absolute gem.	Great professor that helps you learn & is always there for questions. Really enjoyed it & learned a lot.
One of the sweetest professors I have ever met. Love the class, organization, and her! Very understanding and caring towards the students!	This professor is prompt at responding to students, she makes the course interesting, and I learned a lot overall. I'm very glad to have taken this class.

Sample student evaluation comments about my courses (UGA):

This course was a wonderful use of my time. The semester long project was great real-world experience and helped students learn what a book cannot teach. It was well organized, designed, and an effective learning experience. Students got to actually apply skills and steps we learn in lecture to actually helping a target group in the community.	Classroom atmosphere is very comfortable and open. This class allowed for quite a bit of group discussion, sharing of ideas, asking questions, and seeking input from others. I have learned how to lead a professional meeting and become very comfortable giving presentations due to this class.
It accomplished all the goals it was meant to, and made learning the material interesting and fun. We have assignments of different types so we don't get bored, and there is a lot of class involvement.	I enjoyed both of Dr. Hou's courses because they allow you to apply what you've learned in previous courses in the real world, much like we will be expected to after obtaining our degrees.
Had a great experience, learned A LOT, and will remember it all forever. I am glad this class was based on CBPR because I had read about it in articles before, but this class really helped teach how CBPR works and how to go about it.	A whole new perspective on the vulnerable pop. and health disparities, and a stronger understanding of the ecological approach. The digital story project was very instrumental in my understanding of the course material.
Dr. Hou made a wonderful class, she taught us things in the classroom then made us practice the ideas outside the classroom with field trips and required interviews. One of the best teaching methods I have seen while I was a student at UGA. I am so thankful I had the opportunity to take this class.	Dr. Hou was the most compassionate teacher I had while a student at the University of Georgia. She taught us how to relate cancer communication not just in the classroom, but also in the real world. I sincerely hope she continues to offer it (cancer communication) in the future.

Sample student evaluation comments about me as an instructor (UGA):

Dr. Hou is an excellent instructor, very knowledgeable and encouraging, and easy to relate to. She maintains a very professional relationship with her students while also involving them in her life experiences through conversation. She is always willing to answer questions, see how every one is doing, and always challenges her students to do their best.	I am so glad I got to take another course with Dr. Hou. I love the way she has set up the class, with lectures, article and resource presentations, guest speakers, and our main CBPR project. I feel that I have a much stronger background in CBPR and would be able to utilize this knowledge and experience in the future.
Dr. Hou is a true asset to UGA and spectacular representation of the College. I wish I had more teachers like her. She loves her students, uses excellence of teaching strategies, and is a WONDERFUL instructor.	Dr. Hou is always enthusiastic and inspires me to learn. Her excitement has made me look forward to working in public health. The intervention mapping techniques will be priceless in my future profession.
The class and instructor were both amazing. The semester-long project was life-changing and I learned a lot. The instructor is adorable, very supportive and very smart. She made the class interesting. We love her.	I truly enjoy Dr. Hou as a professor. I have enjoyed the opportunity to work with the community, and applying theoretical principles in a practical way, and sharing successes & failures of this process in class.
Dr. Hou is the most caring teacher I've ever had and has the absolute best heart. She always wants the best for her students and was always open for questions and more than willing to help in any way. I would recommend her to any student and she truly helped me deal with a family member's cancer diagnosis with the utmost care and respect. Truly incredible professor!	I really enjoyed how my professor was able to make her lectures interesting with hands-on activities. Dr. Hou was an incredible teacher. She is very enthusiastic and really cares about her students. I hope she continues to offer this course (Asian Culture & Health) for future students.

Sample student comments about my courses (UCF: HSC 4564 – Healthcare Needs of Elderly):

Course Student Perception of Instruction (SPI) = 4.79 out of 5.00 (spring 2023)

I liked how Dr. Hou structured the class; it was easy to understand, straightforward and organized. I liked the assignments she created, as they gave me a chance to apply course concepts in a real-world setting as well as get a more in-depth perspective of the experience of older adults. This was a very insightful class and I will take what I have learned with me into my future career in the medical field.	The instructor is always on top of her work and is always reaching out with emails to keep everyone on track with reminders and help if needed. The course is easy to navigate and she also tries to make it interactive with the homework.
I enjoyed how you made the course interactive. I like the way the course was organized. Had videos, did announcements, and gave feedback on the assignments.	I enjoyed the different types of assignments we had and how it kept the class fun and entertaining. The case studies helped me learn more and apply myself.
I liked that not every week had a quiz and instead a short assignment. This made the material easier to learn since there wasn't pressure to take an exam once a week. One of the best and fun online classes I've taken.	I thoroughly enjoy your class and appreciate the information you are putting out there. This is all new information to me, and I have gained so much knowledge on a completely different aspect of medicine.
I'm learning a lot from the course! It's fun to talk about them with my parents when I get the chance :)	Loved the way the assignments were set up. Her widgets and activities were engaging.
I've learned a lot about what is the best way to care for the elderly. I have grasped a better understanding on the hardships they go through whether this be physical or mental challenges.	I appreciate how the professor gives real-life individuals to interact with and learn from. it opened my eyes to being considerate of the struggles of older individuals
We steadily built-upon concepts involved in caregiving; First being introduced to the growing population of disabled elderly, and then further expanding on the psychological/physiological implications of aging on both the elderly and their caregivers.	The different assignment types helped my learning of the content. The variation between writing assignments, widgets, and quizzes gave me different ways to prove my understanding of the content and figure out what I needed look back on.
We had assignments that involved real-world applications (such as visiting a grief discussion board, watching videos regarding someone's experience with dementia, finding an independent living community). these allowed me to gain a deeper perspective on the experience of aging in the U.S.	I will remember how expensive taking care of the elderly can be. The assignment where we had to write about independent living for the elderly really shocked me. I understand now why a lot of families keep their elderly parents at home with them.
Extra credit opportunity - provided good information with great details - let you know what was wrong and what need to be improved.	Love the course. Gives me a great background for my caregiving job and my future as a geriatric physical therapist!!"
This course has given me a lot of information that I was never given before and really helped give me a more clear understanding of the healthcare needs of the elderly."	I enjoyed the type and number of assignments given. This course had a perfect balance between learning material and assignments or tests.

Sample student evaluation comments about me (UCF: HSC 4564 – Healthcare Needs of Elderly):

An experienced and knowledgeable instructor can play a crucial role in facilitating this process by guiding discussions, providing feedback, and offering practical insights into the field and my prof was. just that	Absolutely love this course and its structure. Professor Su-I truly enjoys the subject. She also has a passion for teaching and cares about her student.
I liked how Dr. Hou structured the class; it was easy to understand, straightforward, and organized. I liked the assignments she created, as they gave me a chance to apply course concepts in a real-world setting as well as get a more in-depth perspective of the experience of older adults. This was a very insightful class and I will take what I have learned with me into my future career in the medical field.	This was a great course and I really enjoyed having you as a professor. Your class was very engaging and I loved how the assignments were always mixed up into mini games, reports, and quizzes to keep us engaged. If I have the chance, I would love to take another one of your classes in the future (:
Professor was very interactive. [she] was very kind as to post assignments in advance to allow time to complete.	I love professor Hou! Thank you for the great semester and for giving feedbacks to the assignments we submitted.
Thank you for organizing the course well!!! Thanks for everything! I truly enjoyed your class and want to thank you again for being an amazing professor!	I love how you incorporated a mixed learning method. You made it fun and engaging with the combination of games and assignments.
Your enthusiasm for the material is infectious and inspiring! Thank you for being a great professor I enjoy reading your feedback on the assignments. Thank you for teaching this course, I have learned many valuable things that I will take with me as a future physician moving forward!	Thank you for a well organized class, and the materials you have shared with us. it was an honor to be in your class being my last semester at UCF. I really appreciate your hard work and dedication to answer all my questions/emails in a timely manner!
