

Michelle Chandler, Ph.D., MPAS
1331 Oneco Avenue
Winter Park, FL 32789
321-295-3781
michelle.chandler@ucf.edu

Education:

Doctor of Philosophy, University of Central Florida, Orlando, FL
Ph.D. Public Affairs – College of Health and Public Affairs
Dissertation: Hospital data integration and patient outcomes
9/2003 – 12/2007

Master of Science, Physician Assistant Studies
University of Nebraska Medical Center, Omaha, NE
MPAS, Family Medicine
8/1998 – 7/1999

Bachelor of Science, Medicine
Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, GA
PA-C, Family Practice
8/1982 – 5/1984

Bachelor of Arts, Medical Sociology
Emory University, Atlanta, GA
BA, Medical Sociology
8/1977 – 5/1981

Professional Experience:

University of Central Florida
Instructor, May 2012 - present
College of Health and Public Affairs
Department of Health Management and Informatics
Orlando, Florida

Stetson University
Adjunct Instructor, August 2014 to December 2014
College of Arts and Sciences
Department of Integrative Health Sciences
Deland, Florida

Seminole State College
Adjunct Instructor, 2010-2012
Department of Health Professions
Altamonte Springs, Florida

Nova Southeastern University, Health Professions Division
Assistant Professor, August 2008- December 2010
College of Allied Health and Nursing
Physician Assistant Program
Orlando, Florida

University of Central Florida
Adjunct Instructor, 2004 - 2008
College of Health and Public Affairs, Cardiopulmonary Sciences
Orlando, Florida
University of Central Florida

University of Central Florida
Adjunct Instructor, 1998 - 2008
College of Health and Public Affairs, Health Services Administration
Orlando, Florida

Valencia Community College
Adjunct Instructor, 2006 - 2007
Department of Business, IT, and Public Services
Orlando, Florida

Rollins College
Adjunct Instructor, January 2008 - May 2008
Physical Education Department, Health and Wellness
Winter Park, Florida

University of Central Florida
Physician Assistant 1994-2006
Student Health Service
Orlando, Florida

University of Central Florida
 Adjunct Instructor, Fall 2002
 College of Health and Public Affairs
 Master's Degree Program, Health Services Administration
 Orlando, Florida

OB & GYN Specialists, PA
 Physician Assistant, 1987-1994
 Winter Park, Florida

Publications:

Chandler, M. (2006). The rights of the medically uninsured: An Analysis of social justice and disparate health outcomes, Journal of Health and Social Policy, 21, 17-36.

Chandler, M. (2007). The effects of eICU® technology on clinical outcomes of ICU patients: Analysis of the relationship of patient, hospital, and unit characteristics to proximal and distal outcomes (Dissertation).

Gerke, J., Chandler, M, and Carey, D. (2009). Axial-flow ventricular assist devices for heart failure. ADVANCE for Physician Assistants, 17, 24-31.

Sweet, V. and Chandler, M. (2010). Therapeutic Hypothermia and Cardiac Arrest. ADVANCE for Physician Assistants, 18, S10.

University/College/Department Service

University of Central Florida (2013): Invited by the Multicultural Association of Pre-Health Students (MAPS) student organization to be keynote speaker – dates TBA.
 Topic: Population Health

University of Central Florida (2012-2014): Guest speaker for the Association of Pre-Physician Assistants (APPA) student organization.

University of Central Florida: 2012 - Guest speaker "PA Forum" hosted by Undergraduate Student Services

University of Central Florida, College of Health and Public Affairs, Department of Health Management and Informatics (2012-2014): Student Appeals Committee, eMSHA Program Review, MS-MSA accreditation process – Fall 2013

Stetson University: "Project Pre-Med"

Offers students the opportunity to practice medical and paramedical skills using case studies and simulations directed by practitioners in the various clinical specialties. Content consists of 12 modules and includes instruction in the areas of general surgery, laparoscopic procedures, embryology, women's health, and infectious disease.
