

The most important thing a student or young voter can do, Eskamani added, is to familiarize themselves with the candidate and their platform – the declared policy of their political party or group. “Ask yourself, ‘How do you want to define our nation?’”

Written by Camille Murawski

---