Works in Progress (that reflect the potential for continued excellence)

Book Proposal

Ross, Lee E. (Under Development). Musical Lyrics and Domestic Violence: Soundtracks of Our Lives. This proposed book results from a content analysis of past and contemporary popular music with attention paid to the prevalence of domestic violence-related themes. It includes a variety of different genres, including Country, Rock and Roll, Pop, Rhythm & Blues, Rap, and Hip-Hop. Preliminary findings indicate a significant percentage of songs contain references to themes commonly associated with different manifestations of domestic violence. The proposed manuscript is under review by Routledge Publications.

Peer-Reviewed Articles

Ross, Lee E. Victim Satisfaction with Domestic Violence Cases: When Does Race Matter? The manuscript examines the impact of race on victim satisfaction with civil and criminal justice processes in response to domestic violence. To be submitted to the Journal of Criminal Justice and Law.

Ross, Lee E. Inter-racial and Intra-racial Comparisons of Case Outcomes in The Restraining Order Process. The present study utilizes a narrative literature review to explore whether racial differences characterize the restraining order process in instances where petitions are either granted, denied, or rescheduled. To be submitted to the Journal of Interpersonal Violence.

Ross, Lee E. Stalking, Technology, and Domestic Violence Victimization. This manuscript examines the widespread use of technology used by domestic abusers to stalk their victims. The article also attempts to explore and outline ways that victims can successfully evade detection with certain technologies of their own to increase their safety. To be submitted to the International Journal of Offender Therapy and Comparative Criminology.
