The Department of Legal Studies has many ways you can make friends while developing skills that will help you in law school, grad school and beyond.

Mock Trial

What: Play all parts in a lower-court trial. The assigned case alternates between a civil and a criminal case every year. Improve public speaking skills.

When: Competitions begin in the fall with tryouts held in the spring and fall.

Contact: Dr. Koblasz at DrK@ucf.edu

Moot Court

What: Compete in pairs in an appellate court hearing. Analyze a problem, research the relevant law, prepare written submissions, and present oral argument.

When: Competitions begin in the fall with tryouts held in the spring.

Contact: Dr. Merriam at Eric.Merriam@ucf.edu

Mediation

What: Starting fall 2019. Compete in groups of three to simulate the mediation process. Strengthen debate and negotiation skills.

When: No tryout process at this time. To join email Dr. Gillham for more information.
